4TH SUNDAY OF LENT

For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come toward the light, so that his works might not be exposed. But whoever lives the truth comes to the light, so that his works may be clearly seen as done in God. - Jn 3:20-21

Communion for the Homebound:

When we come together to pray at our Eucharistic liturgy, we do not forget the members of our community who are unable to be with us because of ill health. We remember them in our prayers, and we wish to include them in our Holy Communion. Members of our community bring the Blessed Sacrament to them to comfort them and to unite us in the Eucharist. We are not always aware of those who have this need. Please call the Parish Office to let us know if you or a member of your family would like to have Holy Communion brought to them. Then we can schedule a time for our ministers to visit and bring the Sacrament.

THE PREPARATION OF THE GIFTS AND THE LITURGY OF THE EUCHARIST

The Liturgy of the Eucharist is the pinnacle of the entire celebration of the Mass. The Liturgy of the Word forms us and moves us to celebrate and participate in the sacred action of Christ which brought about our salvation. Attention now focuses on the altar. Notice how the priest says, “Blessed are you, Lord God of all creation, for through your goodness we have received the bread we offer you.” Or “...the wine we offer you.” So, the gifts that we have received, we offer back to the Father as a sacrifice that God transforms. The priest receives all of the gifts and places the gifts of bread and wine on the altar with prayers acknowledging them as gifts of God in which the work of human labor has played a part.

The faithful are then invited to pray that the gifts, represented by the priest as “my sacrifice and yours,” will be acceptable to the Father. At this time, ideally, the congregation both stands and gives a resounding response simultaneously. The standing is meant to reinforce the response, “May the Lord accept the sacrifice at your hands for the praise and glory of his name, for our good, and the good of all His holy Church.” The timing of standing and responding at the same time is a little tricky, but that is the general idea that it is meant to be a resounding response. We are asking that the sacrifice we offer would be acceptable to God and transforming to us.

It is important to know that we do not just offer bread and wine and money and in some cases food for the poor. We offer our very lives, which together with the offering of Christ made present again, makes a pleasing offering to the Father. I will go into that much more next week. But we offer our lives as a sacrifice to God. The congregation is invited to join its offering with that of the priest who prays in the person of Christ leading your Eucharistic prayer. The rite concludes with the Prayer over the Offerings, which is similar in style to the Collect (Opening Prayer) of the Mass.

The Eucharistic Prayer then begins. It is the most solemn of all prayers in the Mass, “the center and summit of the entire celebration.” It begins with the Preface Dialogue which begins the Preface. This dialogue is an invitation by the priest asking the faithful to lift up their hearts and join him in giving thanks and praise to God. The Preface itself is an enumeration of some of the reasons that we have to thank the Lord which are often placed in the context of a liturgical season such as Advent, Christmas, Lent or Easter, or a feast of the Lord, of Mary, or of one of the saints. While each Preface draws on many reasons to give thanks, the Preface always concludes with the greatest reason of all, the Father’s gift of his only Son whom he sent to save us from sin and to restore our relationship with him. The Preface concludes with the singing of the Sanctus (“Holy, Holy, Holy”). As the priest introduces this acclamation, he reminds us that our celebration is done in the company of all the angels and saints, the Church in heaven as well as the Church on earth. The Sanctus offers praise once again for the glory of the Lord, which fills the whole earth and anticipates the coming of the Savior with the words, “Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord...”

EUCHARISTIC MINISTERS OF HOLY COMMUNION TO THE HOMEBOUND

To serve as a Homebound Minister is a wonderful blessing and privilege. To bring the Holy Eucharist to those unable to attend Mass is a special gift.

We are in need of Eucharistic Ministers to the homebound. The time commitment is only 6 times per year. We go out after attending 8:00 a.m. Mass on Sundays and bring the Eucharist, along with a bulletin. We follow a short Communion Rite which is provided and that the residents are very familiar with.

If you are interested in serving in this rewarding ministry and would like more information, please call Bill Van Hecke at (612) 812-8615 or the Parish Office.

WHAT SHOULD BE DONE WITH OLD PALMS?

There is a basket in the open kiosk in the back of church where you may drop off your old palms, or you may burn them in some aluminum foil and sprinkle the ashes around your home as a blessing.
