We remember them in our prayers, and we wish to include them in our Holy Communion. Members of our community bring the Blessed Sacrament to them to comfort them and to unite us in the Eucharist. We are not always aware of those who have this need. Please call the Parish Office to let us know if you or a member of your family would like to have Holy Communion brought to them. That way we can schedule a time for our ministers to visit and bring the Sacrament.

THE MERCY THE APOSTLES PROCLAIMED

Imagine the disciples after Jesus' painful crucifixion and then his glorious resurrection. Their beloved Master's death on the Cross had just thrown them completely. They were overcome with panic, fear, and helplessness. But then they found his grave empty, and then he appeared to them. After the mourning came tremendous joy. The Lord is alive! He is risen!

Soon afterward, however, they realized that life had to go on. Jesus is indeed alive, but he is no longer in this world. He appeared to them, but he was no longer living with them. What should they do now? He was close to them, but they had to take charge of their lives. What happened to them is a model for us because we believe that Christ is risen and is very close to us, but, even so, he does not take away from us the trouble of going about our daily lives. Life has to go on.

For the Apostles, this meant that they returned to their old work. So, in our gospel today we find them fishing. They had to make a living somehow. In their first night out, they caught nothing. Correspondingly, they did not recognize Jesus standing at the shore at first. But then they heeded the advice of a stranger and throw their net out one more time. When they suddenly found their net brimming with fish, they began to comprehend that it was Jesus standing there on the shore.

We have similar experiences in daily life. Jesus is no longer visible among us. He does not even appear anymore to us. Yet, there are situations in the middle of the cares of daily life when we suddenly become aware that, as the beloved disciple exclaimed, we say, "It is the Lord!"

We can experience this joy amid many seemingly impossible difficulties whenever something occurs like the enormous catch of fish. Then we are clearly aware that we have not achieved it ourselves. Then, our awareness of Christ being close to us gives us great joy.

So why the number 153 to describe how many fish were caught in the net? There have been many attempts to explain it throughout Catholic tradition. But all of the explanations have in common that the number signifies the fullness of God which is revealed to the Apostles. Life goes on. And Jesus is there, helping me, and giving me signs of his presence – sometimes so much so that we are as astonished as Peter at the catch of 153 large fish.

Father Tony

La Misericordia proclamada por los Apóstoles

Imagine a los discípulos después de la dolorosa crucifixión de Jesús y luego de su gloriosa resurrección. La muerte de su amado Maestro en la Cruz acababa de arrojarlos por completo. Fueron abrumados por el pánico, el miedo y la impotencia. Pero luego encontraron su tumba vacía, y luego se les apareció. Después del luto vino una alegría tremenda. ¡El Señor está vivo! ¡Él ha resucitado! Poco después, sin embargo, se dieron cuenta de que la vida tenía que continuar. Jesús ciertamente está vivo, pero ya no está en este mundo. Se les apareció, pero ya no vivía con ellos. ¿Qué deberían hacer ahora? Estaba cerca de ellos, pero tenían que hacerse cargo de sus vidas. Lo que les sucedió a ellos es un modelo para nosotros porque creemos que Cristo ha resucitado y está muy cerca de nosotros, pero, aun así, no nos quita la molestia de llevar nuestra vida cotidiana. La vida tiene que continuar. Para los Apóstoles, esto significaba que volvían a su antiguo trabajo. Entonces, en nuestro evangelio de hoy los encontramos pescando. Tenían que ganarse la vida de alguna manera. En su primera noche, no pescaron nada. En consecuencia, al principio no reconocieron a Jesús parado en la orilla. Pero luego escuchan el consejo de un extraño y tiran su red una vez más. Cuando de repente encontraron su red llena de peces, comenzaron a comprender que era Jesús quien estaba parado en la orilla. Tenemos experiencias similares en la vida diaria. Jesús ya no es visible entre nosotros. Ya ni siquiera se nos aparece. Sin embargo, hay situaciones en medio de los afanes de la vida cotidiana en las que de repente nos damos cuenta de que, como exclamaba el discípulo amado, decimos: “¡Es el Señor!”. Podemos experimentar este gozo en medio de muchas dificultades aparentemente imposibles cada vez que ocurre algo como la enorme captura de peces. Entonces somos claramente conscientes de que no lo hemos logrado nosotros mismos. Entonces, nuestra conciencia de que Cristo está cerca de nosotros nos da una gran alegría. Entonces, ¿por qué el número 153 para describir cuántos peces se capturaron en la red? Ha habido muchos intentos de explicarlo a lo largo de la tradición católica. Pero todas las explicaciones tienen en común que el número significa la plenitud de Dios que se revela a los Apóstoles. La vida continúa. Y Jesús está allí, ayudándome y dándome señales de su presencia, a veces tanto que estamos tan asombrados como Pedro por la captura de 153 peces grandes.
