THE SABBATH DAY

With the Sunday morning Mass time change, I know that it will change how you approach your Sunday and in some cases significantly. Yet, this is an opportunity to reflect upon the Sabbath day as a whole and, perhaps, renew our sense of how important it is and specifically what we can do to make it a great day.

Our faith is meant to flow from the Mass and Sunday as a holy day extends from the Mass. It doesn't end with Mass. We can think of Sunday as a day that we climb the mountain and come to the table of the Lord. But it would be a mistake to reduce it to that alone. Our Sunday rest in God does help us to make sense of our work and responsibilities and the Mass is the high point of that rest in God. Our work and leisure are meant to compliment each other in a rhythm that flows from the Eucharist and back to it.

The messages in our culture are not necessarily conducive to the idea of work as something that adds to our dignity as human beings or leisure in the sense of "re-creation." Think of the connotation of the "weekend." What does that make you think of? Perhaps it is a pleasurable thought as many of us think of not working, but really Sunday is meant to be a week-beginning. Often, we tend to think of ourselves as work machines and play machines. But there is the inhaling of life, which is the resting, and then there is the exhaling which is the working. What am I resting in? How am I receiving anew from God? What am I working for? How am I giving? These are important questions because if we don't get Sunday right, we won't get Monday through Saturday right either.

Sometimes we think of leisure as amusement. Think about how entertainers are the highest paid people in our society. Leisure becomes a time not so much to reflect upon reality, but a time to forget and a time to escape reality. The advent of iPhones has greatly contributed to this. The problem is that amusement doesn't really have the capacity to inspire. There is a failure to marvel at the ordinary and experience its mystery, so our time away from work becomes very compartmentalized.

At the same time, our work can be seen as a job devoid of any meaning except the economic. We can see our jobs as "making a living" and the company reinforces efficiency, productivity and, above all, profitability. The satisfaction that we get out of life is relegated to the non-working hours.

But a Catholic view of work and leisure is different and involves integration. Work is very human. Adam and Eve worked and their condition was very fallen as they were banished from the garden to toil when they committed Original Sin. We experience the heaviness of work, but it still has the dignity to enable us to give sincerely and in this we go beyond ourselves. We participate in God's creative activity and we do it with "companions" in a company whom we share in the process, ideally cooperatively. Work can be an opportunity to reshape, reform, or add to as a participation in the cross of Christ's love for us and thereby grow in holiness.

Leisure can take the form of receptivity, celebration and service. Leisure as contemplation moves us away from achievement toward "receiving." It is a call not to take possession of reality and subdue it, but to receive it as a gift. Think about going to Mass. It doesn't accomplish anything except opening our hearts to God who so wants to give. What we do receive is ever new and has the capacity to surprise us. When we extend this openness to others and to the world around us in a receiving kind of way, then we once again can be creative, active, and constructive.

Next week, I will write about some practical ways that we can approach our Sunday. May God bless our pilgrim's walk of faith together.

PRESCHOOL SURVEY RESULTS AND NEXT STEPS

Dear Parishioners and Survey Respondents,

Grace and peace to you in Christ!

On behalf of The Church of the Guardian Angels, I extend my heartfelt gratitude to each of you who participated in our preschool interest survey. Your thoughtful responses have provided us with valuable insight into the needs and desires of our parish families and the broader community.

Survey Highlights

We received 37 responses, with overwhelming support for establishing a high-quality preschool. Notably:

- 97.3% of respondents believe there is a need for a high-quality preschool in our community.
- 51% of respondents are very likely to enroll their child in a Guardian Angels preschool within the next three years.
- Faith-based education (78%) and cost (83%) were among the most important factors in selecting a preschool.
- 64% of families prefer a full-day, year-round program, emphasizing the need for a structured and reliable educational environment.

Moving Forward: A Faith-Filled Commitment to Early Childhood Education

Based on your feedback, I am pleased to announce that Guardian Angels Church will move forward with plans to open a faith-based preschool in Fall 2025. This decision is rooted in our mission to provide a nurturing, developmentally appropriate, and Christ-centered educational experience for young children in our parish and beyond.

Your responses indicate a strong desire for a preschool that prioritizes formation in faith in God, curriculum excellence, and safety. We are committed to creating a program that reflects these values, ensuring a loving and engaging environment for our youngest learners.

Next Steps

- We will continue planning and developing our curriculum, facilities, and staffing to meet the needs identified in the survey.
- We will host a Preschool Pre-Enrollment Inquiry after our 4:30 PM Mass on March 1st and after our 9:00 AM Mass on March 2nd in Saint Francis Hall to answer any questions and offer early enrollment.

We invite you to stay connected and involved as we take this exciting journey together. Look for our new Guardian Angels Catholic Preschool Facebook page!

Thank you for your prayers, feedback, and support as we embark on this mission. If you have any questions or would like to be involved in the planning process, please do not hesitate to reach out.

With gratitude and in Christ's service,

Father Tony VanderLoop

CATHOLIC SERVICES APPEAL

Jesus' call to "do to others as you would have them do to you" (Luke 6: 31) seems doable – until it applies to those who have hurt us. The "others" Jesus refers to aren't limited to our family and friends who treat us with respect. "Others" includes the difficult people in our lives, even the malignant ones. He is asking us to transfer the kind of love reserved for ourselves and our loved ones to those who may very well be undeserving – when viewed exclusively through their actions – but who are children of God and thus merit love and respect. Elsewhere, Jesus says, "Even the pagans do good to those who do good to them."

If we are to love as God loves, we must focus more on others and less on ourselves. There is no "what's in it for me" in Jesus' message. In fact, Jesus offers numerous examples of how the love He is calling us to is anything but reciprocal. Someone takes your coat? Give him the shirt off your back. Suffer a strike across one cheek? Turn to offer your assailant the other one. Someone wishes you ill? Bless them and wish them well. Are you the recipient of mistreatment? Pray for the perpetrator.

Jesus is holding us to a very high standard. Be generous, be loving, and expect nothing in return. We do this when, as parents, we spend the night tending to a sick child or spend hours consoling a friend who has lost her husband. But this is service given to those we know and love. When we give to those we never meet by supporting the Catholic Services Appeal, we are answering Christ's call to "lend expecting nothing back" (Luke 6: 35).
